

What is Fumble?

Fumble is a new, exciting youth charity in the UK. We create a happy, healthy digital world of sex education with young people, for young people. We also support young people with our quality relationships and sex education programme (RSE) in schools, universities and other youth settings.

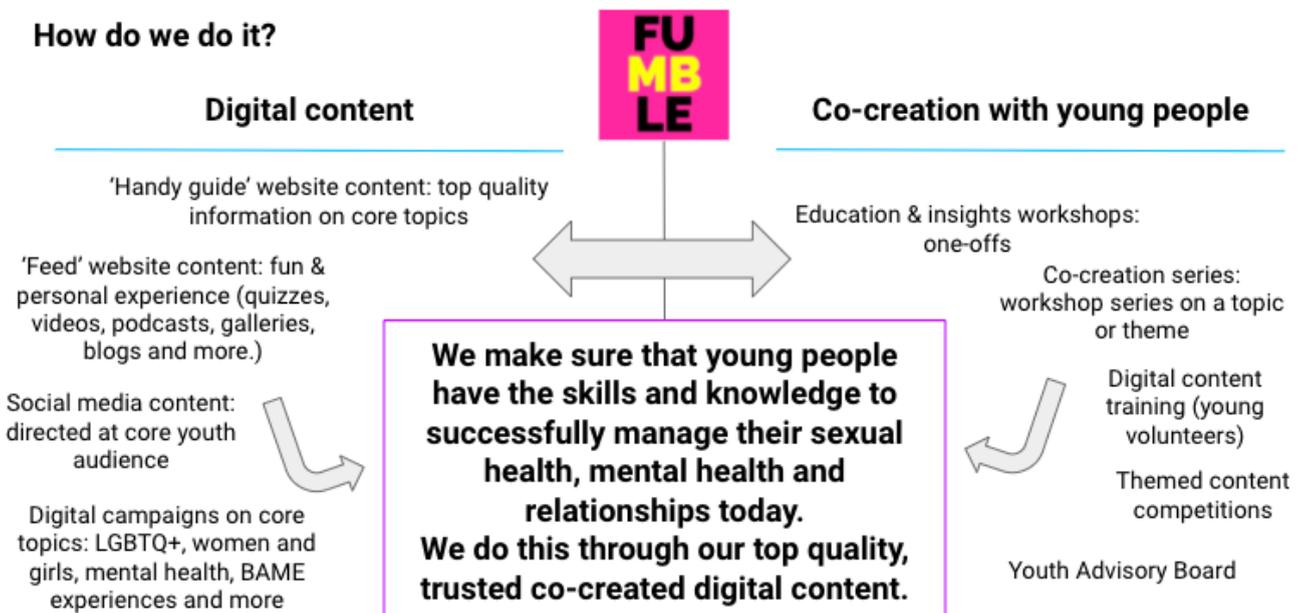

We cover topics that have been traditionally left out of mainstream provision of sex ed. This includes the needs and experiences of:

- LGBTQ+ young people,
- those living with disability,
- those struggling with their mental health,
- those from minority ethnic groups.

We believe that all young people deserve quality, accurate education about sex, relationships, our bodies, our identities and our mental health. Fumble responds to the reality that young people face growing up today, with its unprecedented challenges - particularly posed by growing up alongside the internet and smartphones.

We're a relevant, non-judgemental, trustworthy place for all young people to ask questions and find safe, quality answers. We put young people's voices at the heart of everything we do, and in all the content we produce, through our dynamic co-creation process.

How do we do it?

Aim: Be a top trusted resource for young people looking for sex education online
Impact so far: Over 350,000 UK young people reached online with our pandemic support content series in 2021.

Aim: Involve as many young people in co-creating Fumble content as possible, from diverse and varied backgrounds
Impact so far: 50 young people involved in our dynamic, asset-based co-creation process in 2020-21.

Fumble is a UK registered charity, and our work is almost entirely carried out by young volunteers. Registered charity number: 1188089. We launched Fumble in March 2017, and gained charity status in February 2020.

Our target beneficiaries: Young people up to the age of 25 in the UK, of all genders, sexualities and backgrounds. Within this, we focus primarily on those aged 11-21.

Our mission statement: We make sure that young people have the skills and knowledge to successfully manage their sexual health, mental health and relationships today. We do this through our top quality, trusted, co-created digital content.

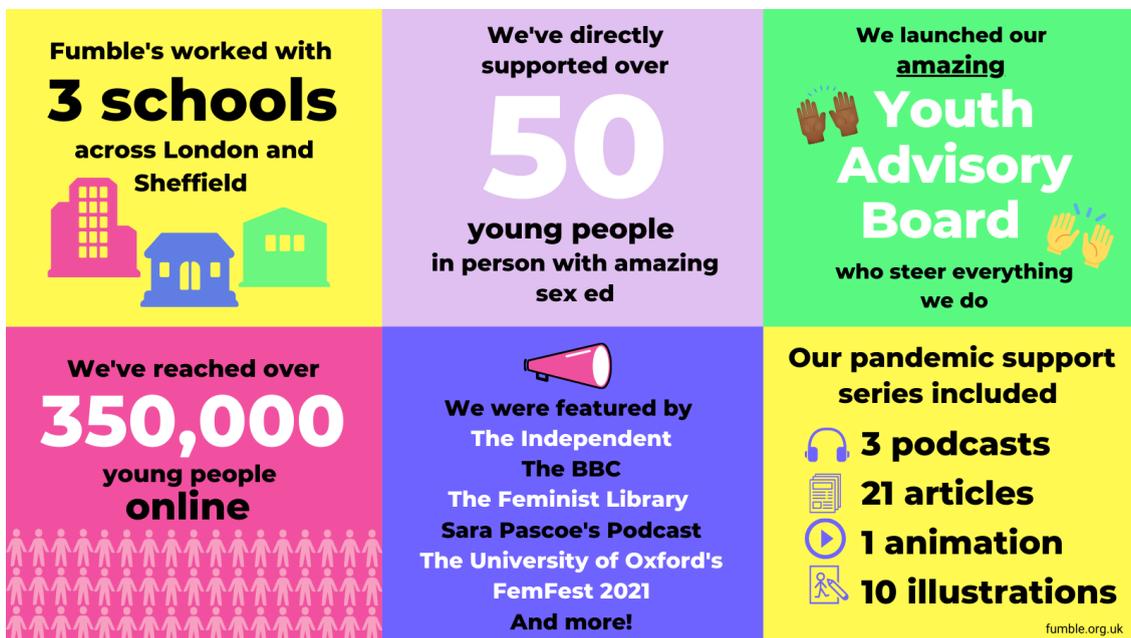

Our vision statement: The go-to online resource on sex and relationships for young people. Engaging, relevant, inclusive and non-judgemental: by young people, for young people.

Impact

Here's just some of what we achieved in our first year...

And finally, from our Youth Advisory Board:

'Fumble is like the knowledgeable best friend every young person needs when growing up. A handbook for everyone, to guide them in making the right sex and relationships choices for themselves,' Amy, 19.

'Fumble's platform is such a fantastic way to reach out to my generation,' Isabel, 17. 'I think Fumble underestimates the impact its platform is going to have in so many young people's lives.'
